Karen Dale

Thank you to all three of you for your incredible contribution!

- Chris ♥ -

LINKEDIN DIRECTORY OF

2000+ WOMEN

WHO INSPIRE THROUGH THEIR WORK.

This project started with an organic post from me, tagging 30 women who inspired me, with a foot note saying please mention any women who were inspiring to others.

Within 48 hours it grew to over 700 women being spotlighted!

The concept of this directory was then born, and we produced Issue One with 1000+ phenomenal women listed and who come highly recommended. 🙌❤️

I am absolutely delighted Issue One was published.

Due to the amount of the incredibly positive feedback, and huge demand for further issues, we opened up further opportunities for more women to be listed.

And here we are - Issue Two with 2000+ inspirational women!

We have also developed and enhanced the directory into further categories, and more defined descriptions, to help you find your key women of influence more easily.

We have 33 featured LinkedIn profiles of incredible women with an in-depth summary from different categories.

Plus an incredible featured interview with none other than the master of LinkedIn - our very own Lea Turner!

This directory is quite a beautiful thing I'm sure you'll agree?!

Thank you for all your support ❤️

LINKEDIN DIRECTORY OF

WHO INSPIRE THROUGH THEIR WORK.

This list is intersectional to ensure all gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, class and other forms of discrimination, intersect to create unique dynamics and effects.

The women's directory aims to spotlight as many industries expert categories as possible.

No longer will "there just aren't any women" be an excuse for not engaging with female-led businesses or building representative event panels.

Instead, you will have free access to female leaders who can truly support and enhance your business.

The purpose of this is to elevate the work of ALL women, and show absolute true allyship.

This is really important to me personally having spent 25 years working and building businesses, across a multitude of different sectors.

I've seen first-hand the barriers that women face throughout their careers, and the impact this has had on them.

ALL women play a huge part in the evolution of work, business, and society.

I understand my role in spotlighting their work!

I design critically important pixie dust to make an organization hum! What does it mean? I work on the culture and people because that is important for the success of any organization.

Yes, I talk about numbers like ROI, EBITDA, and bottom line. Increasing shareholder value is a priority. I work on creating HR Value chain, HR Strategy Map and building Business Cases. Yes, let us crunch some numbers to see where we are and where we want to be in business objectives. Metrics help! You see it in black and white! Let us do some balance scorecard spinning too!

I believe in ABC (Always Be Cultivating) philosophy by thinking of recruitment as a sales process. If you want A-players on your team, your company must spend as much time and effort attracting and retaining employees as it does on finding and keeping customers.

I also believe that Talent Acquisition should be run like a marketing campaign for a product. A candidate's entire journey from the time they see your ad until they join your company says a lot about the brand.

I do not believe in yearly performance appraisal. It doesn't work! What works is constant feedback, team building and focussing on leadership skills. You see a problem and you work on it. Do not wait for a year to appraise. I help build teams, and strengthen coordination, teamwork, cross-functionality, and process mapping. Everything got to be practical and effective otherwise it's of no use.

Am a technology geek. Always curious to learn what's new! I believe technology helps optimize processes and business growth. I have worked on various HRMS software implementations like SAP, Oracle and other interesting cloud-based platforms. Customized modules, heavily work on the data, designed reports to find interesting information.

I had a life turning moment when a few years back my son lost his Father to depression. The pain and grief made me think about what can I do for humanity and break the stigma around mental health, and that's when I started my journey, and today I am a Certified Rapid Transformational Therapist and Licensed Hypnotherapist. I support individuals and organizations to deal with various issues around mental health and understand their full potential.

They say that neurons that fire together, wire together... My thoughts are wired to help people in need and actions fired to contribute "my bit" to the humanity.

The study of human behavior has always intrigued me. My passion for understanding the human psyche led me to pursue my master's in Industrial Psychology. Soon after completing my studies, I joined Unilever (The biggest multinational) as Consumer Insight Manager.

I got the opportunity to utilize my knowledge of psychology and learn and practice the latest research techniques. At Unilever, I was responsible for Consumer Connect with highly creative ways to generate insights for the business. Under my leadership, Consumer Interface Cell achieved the highest ever Consumer Connects, i.e., 2200+ for over ten brands, and delivered over 15 insights, bringing 5% growth to the business. This achievement was recognized, and I was nominated for the Global best practice magazine of Unilever.

I started a freelance consultancy in 2012. I conducted several research projects for different clients from across the globe. I am working on a project basis with Euromonitor since 2015. I have conducted several research projects for Saudi Arabia, UAE, and Pakistan.

My passion for spreading knowledge of psychology drove me to write articles for one of the most prestigious newspapers in Pakistan, "The Dawn." Several of my articles on psychology-related topics got published. I am a monthly columnist, with the Pen name of "Psychology Talks" at one of the most prestigious communities at Pathways Jeddah Community.

I have conducted several workshops for women on parenting and creative storytelling session for kids.

Please feel free to reach out to me to explore how I can add value and contribute to the growth of your business.

Originally from Lithuania, country with one of the highest suicides rates in the world, Evelina has lost several friends & family members to suicide. Her work is driven by the vision of the world where every individual has tools and resources to thrive with life's challenges and stresses.

'It's not what happens to you that shapes your success and happiness - it's the lessons we learn from those experiences' she says. 'Suffering is universal. It's what you do with it that matters.' Evelina's personal story of growth, resilience and adaptation is often shared on international stages.

Today Evelina uses her experience, neuroscience research, performance coaching and technological innovation to support organisational wellbeing, build stress resilience and maximise leadership impact at times of change and uncertainty. As a founder of Elite Mind, leadership development and organisational wellbeing consultancy, Evelina helps to create the right environments for high performance and wellbeing.

Despite increasing awareness of the importance of mental health, the practical tools for impactful action is still missing in organisations. Evelina's work fills this gap. In her therapeutic practice, she specialises in trauma and affective disorders, with a track record of reversing depression, anxiety, chronic stress, PTSD and psychosomatic illness.

In response to the pandemic, Evelina established an academy to support entrepreneurs in mental health space, and co-founded EMBA, the company behind the development of the Wellbeing Compass. Evelina has been recognised as a global impact leader in the field of health & wellbeing, in line with UN's SDGs.

Don't get fooled by my appearance. I'm more than my look.

👉 As a professional, I consult companies to increase their revenues by providing tailored recommendations based on their needs and goals to get the most out of their digital marketing efforts. Data-driven and coachable professional with extensive experience in client-facing roles having consulted a portfolio of thousands of businesses across EMEA on digital strategy and business growth internationally.

My journey:

- Dynamic and proactive, I started taking on projects when I was 16-17, being a PR for a local club and then working within a non-profit organisation managing relationships with major Italian brands.
- I then supported my family business part-time, on the marketing & sales side.
- Analytical background: 4 yrs in Business Administration and Corporate Finance;
- Pivoted back to Marketing & Sales. Gained people skills and industry experience. Grew a client portfolio up to almost 1M Euros in monthly revenues for Facebook, before turning 25. Top performer in the program within the first quarter of work and soon a point of reference for the team, mentoring people, often +5 years older than me, to achieve their performance goals.
- Joined Pinterest Sales team on a contract. Spent the summer finetuning critical skills by delivering lectures in UK/I. Planning to return to corporate in Fall/Winter.

Other:

🌈 Started posting on LinkedIn in May 2021. In July 2021 I ranked 2nd amongst the 2021 100 Top LinkedIn Sales Stars. On a break until July 2022, when I restarted and reached almost 1M post views in less than a week and increased my profile views by 8756%. Gained 7,000 new followers in 2 months. 1% Top SSI.

⚡ Selected in Q4 2020 for achieving the impactful customer success story in the Italian team by helping an e-commerce advertiser 20X ROAS and 300% increase in Sales

😊 Helped an E-commerce client grow their campaigns revenue by 400% in Q4 2020 compared to the previous year while achieving a 99% ROAS.

I develop, transform and optimise company performance through business consultancy and advisory services. I offer full business advisory, and non exec services. I also offer recruitment and talent acquisition consultancy, training and coaching.

When focusing on recruitment and people strategies I work on specific outcomes, assist with developing engaged teams, up-skill leadership teams and realign selection and attraction processes to successfully ensure high company performance and retention. I am also an expert on diversity and inclusion strategies.

I founded McCarthy Recruitment in 2005 and since then have successfully scaled up, creating a robust yet agile business that's stood the test of Recessions, and a Pandemic.

I successfully completed a management buyout of McCarthy recruitment in 2020 and set up McCarthy Consultancy which delivers projects for manage businesses and is hugely diverse.

I have retained a 20% share in McCarthy recruitment and I am their chair and founder.

I understand how lonely it can be running a small/medium size business and I enjoy mentoring, Coaching and advising business owners and senior leadership teams. I specialise in entrepreneurial growing businesses that need assistance with processes and structure and work across all business functions. I work with many larger organisations on specific key projects.

McCarthy Consultancy offers a range of services, whether it is marketing, finance management, customer service, HR /people strategies or operations, I analyse processes and ways of working to improve the businesses key outputs and enhance their bottom line and cultures.

I am currently working with companies in the hospitality, marketing, event, recruitment, construction, aesthetics and waste sectors.

I love making a difference, I enjoy working with businesses in a Management Consulting Capacity and my current projects are focusing on Leadership and Strategy, Employee Engagement, Recruitment Process, Diversity, Talent acquisition, Finance processes, Operational efficiencies/logistics and Non-Executive Director Business Coaching.

SERVICES PROVIDED BY CHRISTINE CHRISTODOULOU:

Recruitment Services, Talent Management, Sourcing, RPO and MSP

I'm a recruitment leader with 20+ years experience under my belt so I've pretty much seen it all - the good, the bad, and the downright ugly side of recruitment.

I've managed & led teams of up to 40 and, whilst running a business, which can often be an absolute ball ache (let's be honest!), I take immense pleasure in providing a happy & nurturing environment for my team and above all, training absolute rookies to help shape them into the future's superstars.

I'm the doer of our business - from managing the day-to-day sales function and operations, to L&D, internal recruitment, staff wellbeing, incentives, marketing, mothering, nagging even! You name it, I probably do it!

I'm a great believer in the simple principles of being straight and fair with both clients and colleagues - and delivering great service of course!

Every business wants to be able to attract the top talent. With the current skills shortage in many disciplines, the most talented individuals know they hold all the cards, and will only work for the best. Businesses can't afford to leave it to chance and hope the best people will naturally navigate towards them.

The answer for firms fighting the war for talent is to build a strong employer brand, leveraging recognition and trust to get the edge on their competitors. And of course, partnering with a great recruitment & talent acquisition company!

Why Revoco?

The business is genuinely based on the principles I believe in... we even drive good behaviour from our consultants by rewarding them for client and candidate satisfaction, not the number of calls they make, CVs they send out, or even the roles they fill.

We provide an environment for our team to thrive, underpinned by our 4 core values: Family, Reward, Flexibility & Innovation. This in turn cascades to our clients...

When I'm not working?

You'll probably find me walking and training my two gorgeous Shiatzus, drinking Prosecco, travelling or buying shoes - not all at the same time, but I could try!

There once was a girl from Yorkshire, a salesgirl through and through, but when it came to cold calling she didn't understand what to do.

She would call and call, and call some more until the day was through, but when she thought about it, there had to be a simpler way that someone knew!

So she tried different ways to reach them, mailshots, events, and drop-ins too. She even lip-synced to songs online to draw attention from you.

But, after all the trialing she found to her delight, social media was the way forward, even if her faces did give some a fright.

Now, the way we buy is changing, it's exciting, fun, and new! But, are you struggling to find a way to reach new clients too?

Now I can help you, generate leads, as well as training your staff in marketing too. All you need to remember is people buy people, not me, but you!

Be it my content, full marketing or training, I promise we will get you through. As with my help and guidance, I can help you stand out too.

But if you've gotten this far into my About section, here's some advice you never asked for: don't wait for a sign-ier sign than this to do something a lil weird in your career.

Record a podcast in a ball-pit full of gobstoppers.

Stand on your desk with a megaphone and announce to the whole office that you're on your period. Make them suffer as much as you are.

Find your career love language.

⚡ WHY WORK WITH ME..?

My passion comes from personal experience of unhealthy relationships & trauma, which caused unnecessary havoc in my business, marriage & life. Over the last 15 years I've wasted untold amounts of TIME, MONEY and ENERGY on counselling and bad advice which only made things worse, so I travelled the world to learn from the wisest teachers and gurus to find out what was really going on.

⚡ WHO I WORK WITH...

WOMEN who are busy juggling life, relationships, careers and often kids. Women who even though they are super intelligent, they've been through so much in their life that they struggle to process it all and they're just not clear about what to do next. They feel tired, low, guilty, confused and they've lost connection with who they really are & what they truly want.

They're struggling because no one teaches us what we REALLY need to know about getting to the root cause of our problems and we're not sure who or where to turn to for help.

⚡ HOW CAN I HELP YOU..?

My 121 clients text me daily with realisations & breakthroughs, some have a period for the first time in months, receive unexpected MONEY, attract amazing OPPORTUNITIES, see growth & SUCCESS in their business/career, feel HAPPY & content for the first time in years and receive CRYSTAL CLEAR CLARITY on what to do next.

I run three programmes:

The VIP Experience ~ 12 Months

The Ultimate Liberation ~ 6 Month Experience

The Self-Love Accelerator ~ 6 Week Intensive

And we don't mess about. We get to the root cause of the problem. We understand your patterns and your deepest fears and we disrupt what isn't serving you.

If this resonates, I'd love to hear from you. Reach out in confidence and let's get you feeling frickin' awesome again within 3 months.

Social Media Marketing, TikTok Training and Courses

I'm a bit of a weir-dough. 🍪

My name is Erica, I am a young Canadian entrepreneur who took a passion and turned it into a business. And with this business, I have spent less than $1500 on marketing in the first 2 years of owning my business.

I have been involved in the fitness industry for many years now and have developed a great amount of love and appreciation for better-for-you foods. Who doesn't love healthier versions of their favourite treats?

I took a look around, and realized Canada is lacking products that are not only plant-based, but have added protein as well, while still containing quality ingredients. Cookie dough is such a nostalgic, fun treat, but the tummy ache and sugar crash that follows it aren't fun. After spending countless hours experimenting in my kitchen, I created Canada's first better-for-you edible cookie dough with a spin...

Launched in 2019, Bro Dough is not only vegan, but contains plant-based protein (derived from peas), as well as natural sweeteners. The product contains half the amount of sugar found in traditional cookie dough and does not use any artificial sweeteners.

Bro Dough was created for consumers who prioritize their health and still want to enjoy a treat, without sacrificing their health or fitness goals.

Our vision is to create a world where someone can eat an entire jar of cookie dough and still feel good about themselves. Have your dough and eat it too.

If you want to learn how I grew my business mostly organically, I offer coaching and have a course available. Please visit my website: <https://www.growwitherica.com/>

My passion is sharing my knowledge with others and watching them be successful. Let me help you GROW! 🌱

SERVICES PROVIDED BY HOLLIE PERFECT:

Recruitment, Talent Acquisition, Recruitment Consulting

Hi my name Hollie and yes my second name really is Perfect.

I started my career in recruitment back in 2005 and was naturally great at it - Because I love talking to people.

After a successful 10 years as a consultant, I started Perfectly Recruiting in 2017 with one clear mission - To connect perfect* (I know...) talent with exceptional companies.

Focusing on three key areas, Facilities Maintenance, Property Management and Office Support

Recruiting the "Perfect" Talent for I work 5 Specific areas:

Commercial Properties
High-End Residential
Retail
Business Parks
Industrial Parks

Starting a new job can be daunting - And so can hiring the perfect... person to do it. I have worked with clients such as CBRE, Canary Wharf Group, Jaguar, Ballymore and Rendall and Rittner across roles such as:

Facilities Manager, Facilities Coordinator, Contract Manager, Building Manager, Building Services Manager, Technical Services Manager, Operations Manager, Property Manager, Contract Admin Support, Help Desks, Multi-Skilled Engineers: Electrical Engineers, AC Engineers, Mechanical Engineers (Static, Foot and Van Mobile) and Fabric Engineers.

I love my job, exercising with my son and always taking on a new personal project. Reach out to discuss all three. hollie.perfect@perfectlyrecruiting.co.uk

Interview Preparation, Career Development & Executive Coaching

If you're a jobseeker, you have two choices: Blend in OR Stand out. Not Both.

"People get hired because they can solve a problem that hasn't been solved before, because the problems that have been solved before are easy to look up.

That's why the skills of connecting people, standing up for what you believe in and making a difference are now significantly more important than the ability to solve a quadratic equation." – Seth Godin

And, this is exactly why I launched PortfolioRocket in March 2020.

Candidates apply. Remarkable hires get found.

🚀 MY WHY: To replace the archaic and dreaded job search process, we all know is broken with a FUN, simple and scalable program enabling you, the jobseeker to access your love, purpose and contribution and work becomes energizing, playful and rewarding.

🚀 PORTFOLIOROCKET works with the C-suite, Presidents, and other Senior Leaders who despite their success, six or seven figure salaries, skills & experience, remain uncertain how to best approach their next move – without compromising their values, compensation or fulfillment.

✗ WHAT DOESN'T WORK:

Magical thinking, expecting that only an updated resume, headhunters, or applying endlessly online is a winning career formula for your specific wants and needs.

👉 WHAT DOES:

A verifiable system that's served nearly +200 Clients with tangible results like increases their compensation on average +67% and + 4X's their ROI.

🚀 PORTFOLIOROCKET is a curriculum to learn now and practice for the rest of your career. Action takers, not excuse makers welcome.

Leaders have a challenging job. Expectations are high. It's lonely! Stress & anxiety are commonplace & yet often ignored at the peril of the individual and the organisation.

Most leadership development focusses on skills development but forgets the most important part of any leaders success - Mindset!

Our mindset drives our actions which leads to our results.....not the other way around.

Until we know ourselves better, become more self-aware and mentally resilient, our leadership performance cannot be optimised. It can be good but not great!

If you want to be mediocre, that's cool, but to be exceptional and stand out for all the right reasons, the mindset piece is key!

Poor leadership costs businesses a lot of money; Reduced business results as employees become disengaged (presenteeism), go off sick (absenteeism) or leave to find a better environment to work in.

I've been on the receiving end of poor leadership and poor cultures during my career & decided 8 years ago it was time to stop complaining about it and help change it for the better!

HOW I HELP:

My clients develop a powerful mindset (with zero ego!) and the skills they need to allow them to be the best leader they can be.

The coaching I provide is life changing and leads to incredible personal and organisational results.

THE IMPACT:

I've worked with over 500 hundred leaders, teams & entrepreneurs helping them:

*Grow the company value from £5M to £30M

*Improving profitability by 40% which equated to an additional £10 Million in revenue

*Improving monthly revenues by >350%

*Securing 4 job offers in the space of 6 weeks.

Corporate Training, Training, and Team Building

If you want 'tick box' training... then stop reading. Don't waste a second more of your time.

But if you want something better... Then this is for you!

At Elite Force Safety, we only work with businesses and people who are passionate about making a difference and having a real impact on the environment they work in.

Training alone does not work. That's why we design tailored programmes to each business we work with.

- Mental Health
- Manual Handling including Slips, Trips and Falls.
- Manager training Leadership and Communication
- IOSH Working & Managing Safely
- First Aid
- Fire Marshal
- Bespoke Health and Safety Productions

All of our programmes include ongoing support. We will not just do the training, then leave you to fend for yourself... that's not how you get culture change.

We use Military Veteran Instructors, every course we deliver is delivered to an incredibly high standard, in an easy to understand, practical way. Full of real life examples, stories, 'penny drop' moments and of course, tonnes of personality.

Because we use a pragmatic and holistic approach we guarantee to leave a lasting impression. Changing the culture of Safety in businesses.

Our training and programmes really can add value to any business, designed to be tailored around any budget.

Sound like something your company could benefit from? Then maybe we could work together!

THE RUELLA JAMES WAY

Work is so much more than a job. A job is something we do for others: a favour, an ask - a value exchange.

But work? Work is something we do for ourselves.

Work is our joy, our passion, our purpose. Work is the reason we get out of bed in the morning with a smile on our faces. But for years, a recruiters' work has been considered less than.

An oversaturated market, a poorly branded reputation and an overwhelming workload.

But a recruiters' work is too fundamental - and too essential - to accept the cards we've been dealt.

It was time someone breathed new life into our sector, brought joy back into our work and helped demand the respect every recruiter deserves.

And we accepted that challenge 22 years ago. As we enter our 23rd year, we're not here to be another recruitment to recruitment firm.

We're here to be the agent of change, bringing new talent into the heart of this industry and enhancing the careers of those already working in it.

If you are looking for a new opportunity, and you'd like to experience our Award Winning Service, give us a call and let us make that change happen together.

AN INTERVIEW

WITH LEA TURNER

If you're active on LinkedIn and haven't already encountered one of Lea Turner's headache-inducingly vibrant, positivity-infused posts, usually brimming with sarcasm, silliness, or sass, then you must have been living under a rock.

But under her playfulness, her content is always designed to help or encourage, and her journey from broke single mum to savvy business owner, generating more than half a million pounds in its first two years, is one that has inspired and empowered many other users on the platform.

She's the first to admit she's not perfect and doesn't always get things right, but her humility, transparency, and commitment to lifting up others, makes her a force for good on LinkedIn. We managed to grab some time with Lea to find out more on what's working on LinkedIn, and squeeze out her very best tips for success on the platform.

How did you get started on LinkedIn?

Much in the same way as everyone else. I had a skeleton profile and a few connections; old school friends, ex-colleagues, etc. And it was just there for if I ever needed a job. I think I got an account in 2012, but logged on maybe once a year. I had a small transcription business which I started in 2011 which made just enough money to live on, but in 2019 I was thinking about growing the business, taking on some freelancers, so that when my son started school I could cut back on the 60+ hour working weeks to be a more present (and less exhausted) parent.

I logged onto LinkedIn out of curiosity because I had no marketing budget and no opportunity for in-person networking, so I explored LinkedIn as a possible way to attract new clients. Although, I'll be honest, at first scroll down the news feed I thought "Absolutely not, this is way too corporate and dry for me". Thankfully, I gave it a second chance, and once I stopped trying to blend in and sound corporate, and was just myself, writing about my life and my work and my hopes and ambitions... people flocked to me and the clients started rolling in.

Why did you decide to start training other people to use LinkedIn?

My transcription business was going really well, with 5 freelancers helping me keep on top of all the client work coming from LinkedIn, but when the UK went into first lockdown, I lost my freelancers and a lot of my clients. They just didn't have any work for me.

It was kind of a sink or swim situation. I'd had nearly 100 inbound clients from LinkedIn at that point, and I think I had close to 25,000 followers in about 5-6 months.

People were constantly asking me how I was getting so much work, so I analysed what I was doing differently, and started offering one hour training sessions in April 2020. I shared what I knew with other business owners, and helped them to implement my advice. It went very well, people got great results, and I've pretty much been fully booked ever since.

What do you love the most about LinkedIn?

I think the thing that surprised me the most at first about LinkedIn, is the possibilities for genuine friendships with people who inspire and encourage me and teach me so much. I have learned more in the past nearly 3 years on LinkedIn, than the rest of my living years combined.

I've met so many of my LinkedIn connections in person, either at events I've been to, events I've hosted, or just arranging times to hang out together, and I've got some of the best friends of my life out of it. LinkedIn is AMAZING for business opportunities, but the friendships I've gained have been the biggest win, and just by being my real, weird self.

What annoys you the most about LinkedIn?

Ahhh we could be here all day with that one. I love a healthy debate, but I do wish people could keep outright nastiness to themselves. I think of LinkedIn as a more intellectual platform, and trolling is such neanderthal behaviour.

I've learned to laugh at it these days, but it can really impact people's mental health and confidence, and that bothers me. I've become a lot more mentally resilient, but I've had clients and friends who have been really impacted by unnecessary abuse on LinkedIn and I wish the platform were better at policing that kind of behaviour.

How has LinkedIn changed over the past few years?

When I first became active on LinkedIn it was still holding onto that corporate grey suit reputation. It felt intimidating and exclusive.

But since the pandemic and so much of the working world being forced to network and socialise online, it has morphed into a place where business and personal content blend together, people are more comfortable to bring their whole selves into their work, and LinkedIn has become a vibrant, engaging, and often genuinely fun place to be.

They've brought in new features like audio events, laughing reactions, they're driving more young creators to the forefront who are diverse and colourful, who tackle difficult subjects and disrupt the professional stereotypes.

LinkedIn has become the after work drinks of online networking, rather than the beige conference centre with bad coffee and stale sandwiches. You don't have to fit in to belong on LinkedIn now. There's a place for everyone.

What do you think has made you and your business so successful on LinkedIn?

I think I rode a wave at the start. I was bringing parts of my real life, sharing my fears, funny stories, rants, and excitement at a time when people needed a bit of human connection and to feel like they weren't alone. I worked alone at home for so many years that I was loving the opportunity to network with new people, and I'm naturally bubbly, friendly and sociable, and I think it stood out and made me relatable and approachable.

Those qualities also helped people to trust me, because they felt like they knew me, and as they followed my shift into LinkedIn training they had witnessed my success and the success my clients were having, so they trusted me for that as well.

Word of mouth travels fast, and my clients shout about working with me and the success they see. My 'personal brand', or online reputation, whatever you want to call it, is extremely strong and I'm well known for the results I get with my clients, and that's been pivotal to the growth of my business.

What are the biggest mistakes you see people making on LinkedIn?

Hah, SO MANY. Firstly, not using all the many, many profile features. Your profile is where curious people go to find out how you can help them, so make sure you're giving them that information using all the features; cover video, link in profile, featured posts, recommendations, etc. It doesn't matter how great your content or comments are if your profile lets you down.

Second biggest mistake is not engaging with others. Just posting content isn't going to attract regular leads or build your visibility. It's like shouting into a room of strangers and then wandering off. LinkedIn is for networking. Networking is conversations. So get involved in comment sections, and start conversations with your own content, then hang about and respond to people and start building those relationships and trust.

If you had to start over on LinkedIn, what would you do differently?

I think every experience I've had along the way has contributed to the confidence and success I have now. Even the negative experiences. I wish I'd been a bit more mentally resilient at the start as the threats, trolls, and nasty encounters left me a bit shaken a few times.

That doesn't happen now, but if I'd known what was going to happen and how fast things would develop, I'd have started therapy sooner to support my mental health and give me healthier coping mechanisms.

Looking to the future, what do you expect to see happening with LinkedIn?

I think every experience I've had along the way has contributed to the confidence and success I have now. Even the negative experiences. I wish I'd been a bit more mentally resilient at the start as the threats, trolls, and nasty encounters left me a bit shaken a few times.

And lastly, what are your top 5 tips for LinkedIn success?

- 1 Be consistent. Show up every day, even if it's just to leave a few comments, Your name will still pop up in feeds and remind people you exist.
- 2 Don't overwhelm yourself - LinkedIn needs to be a regular part of your marketing strategy but if you go from nothing to posting every day, you'll soon burn out. Start with one post a week until it's easy, then up it.
- 3 Learn what works. Pay attention to which posts do well, which ones get your ideal clients commenting or messaging you. Learn what your audience responds to and do more of it.
- 4 Comment liberally on other people's content. Comments are micro content that help new people see you and engage in conversation with you. Every time you comment your photo, name and headline show, so make sure you nail those and then every comment counts!
- 5 Bring personality and personability to your content. Let people know about your life, who you are behind the business.

You don't have to share photos of your kids or talk about your mental health, but mentioning you're a parent, talking about your hobbies and interests - they're ice breakers, easy conversation starters, and are opportunities for people to find something in common with you, which helps build trust.
